PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Dear students, parents and teachers,

It is with mixed feelings that I announce that Mrs Lloyd, our REC and learning support teacher will be leaving us at the end of this year. Mrs Lloyd is an exemplary teacher and leader in our community. Her work as REC was always marked with her special attention to our sacred ceremonies. She has helped many children with specific needs, especially in reading, and she is held in great esteem by the whole staff. I will especially miss her good counsel. Mrs Lloyd has accepted a role as Assistant Principal at St. Nicholas of Myra in Penrith and I know she will bring all her gifts and talents to this new role. We wish her well as she moves to another mile stone in her teaching career.

Our very special congratulations to Mrs Pullen, one of our Kindergarten teachers, who will be leaving us at the end of Term 1 2015 to have her first child. This is a very special time for both Mr and Mrs Pullen and I know you will join me in wishing them all the best. We have appointed a new teacher for Kindergarten next year – Miss Anne Andruskin. She will be visiting during this term in preparation for starting in 2015.

As mentioned in our last newsletter, we are currently organising our classes for next year. Many of our teachers have been receiving requests from parents for different teachers to work in various grades or to have children separated for their classes next year. I would ask that you refrain from asking this of our teachers. The teaching staff and I will decide the classes for 2015 and the placement of teachers. Once children have been placed in a class there will not be any changes. As you can imagine this is a complex task and your co-operation is appreciated. It is very important also, that if you are considering not returning for 2015, that you let the school know as soon as possible. There are a number of families on our waiting list and we would like to finalize the 2015 enrolments in the next few weeks.

On Monday 17th November we will be having an opening ceremony for our new softfall area at 9.30am. This will include recognition of the generous contributions from OLQP P&F, Wentworthville Leagues Club and St. Paul's College and the overall plan of community support from Holroyd Council. Rain has unfortunately slowed up the process to completion but, hopefully, we will be able to use the area very soon.

Following are some very important events that have been organised by the Parents and Friends Committee:

- ◆ Friday 7th November 7.30pm: Parents shopping Night in the school library (see following pages for details).
- ◆ Wednesday 12th November 7.30pm: P&F Annual General Meeting in the school library (all are invited).
- ◆ Friday 14th November 3.30 to 5.30pm: Primary Children's Disco in the Hall
- ◆ Friday 14th November Gold Coin Mufti

Recently we have had a number of reported cases of chicken pox. Please check your children for the symptoms of fever and/or spots. Chicken pox can spread quite quickly and we have two staff members who are pregnant. It is important to keep your child at home if they are infected, until the doctor gives you an "all clear".

Next week is week 6 and during week 6 and 7 we are having some focused attention on reading, particularly for our beginning readers. Kinder, Year 1, 2 and 3 teachers will be asking for your support in reading every night with your child and talking to them about their reading. There will also be an invitation to come into the classes, during the last half hour of the day, to listen to children read. Research suggests that beginning and emerging readers benefit greatly from lots of reading practice.

Have a great week

Michael Hopley

Principal

AP NEWS:

6 Ways to Encourage Your Son to Read

Read Aloud

Reading aloud to your son will help him fall in love with stories. Even if reading aloud didn't enhance vocabulary and comprehension, it would still be worth doing because it offers you both a positive and peaceful interaction in your otherwise busy day. As your son learns to decode words, try reading to each other, matching him page for page. Support him when he reads aloud to you, but don't be too quick to correct a mispronunciation. Even after he's a more accomplished reader, he'll still benefit from hearing you read to him. Children often understand far more words when hearing them spoken than when reading them on a page. Remember, the goal of reading aloud is to have a good time. Keep things light; read so that you're both enjoying it.

Expand Your Definition of Reading

Don't worry if your son isn't drawn to traditional boy classics like The Adventures of Tom Sawyer or Treasure Island. Magazines, comic books, football cards, newspapers, graphic novels, websites, joke collections — it all counts as reading.

Pair Books with Activities

Boys who prefer active learning to quiet contemplation may enjoy making their books come to life. Turn your boy into a human pizza after reading Pete's a Pizza. Supply simple props like rocks and boxes while reading Roxaboxen. Try out some of the recipes at the end of Eating Fractions.

Get Caught Reading

Most boys pay more attention to what we do than to what we say, so let them catch you reading. Don't reserve your books for those few minutes of quiet after you put them to bed; read in public. It's especially important for boys to see other males reading, so dads and uncles should let boys see them curling up with their favourite books. Also, leave books around the house rather than tucking them all away on shelves.

Let Boys Choose

All kids like control, and many of them don't get enough of it. We decide what they eat for dinner, when they go to bed and where they can play. Independent reading is an excellent area for your son to control, even if he chooses books you think are above or below his reading level.

Start a Book Club

Discussing books with your child and his friends is a great way to talk about values and dilemmas in a non-confrontational setting. Just make sure that the adults don't dominate the conversation.

(Taken from <http://www.theguardian.com/books/shortcuts/2012/feb/08/10-books-boost-boys-reading>)

Below is a list of 10 good reads for boys aged 7 – 12:

- |                 |                         |
|-----------------|-------------------------|
| 1. Alex Rider   | 6. Artemis Fowl         |
| 2. Harry Potter | 7. Diary of a Wimpy Kid |
| 3. Young Bond   | 8. Captain Underpants   |
| 4. Horrid Henry | 9. The Cherub series    |
| 5. Flat Stanley | 10. Holes               |

RE NEWS:

Last Sunday's Gospel was one of my favourite pieces of scripture; (Matthew 5:1-12): The Beatitudes

Seeing the crowds, Jesus went up the hill. There he sat down and was joined by his disciples. Then he began to speak. This is what he taught them: 'How happy are the poor in spirit; theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Happy the gentle: they shall have the earth for their heritage. Happy those who mourn: they shall be comforted. Happy those who hunger and thirst for what is right: they shall be satisfied. Happy the merciful: they shall have mercy shown them. Happy the pure in heart: they shall see God. Happy the peacemakers: they shall be called sons of God. Happy those who are persecuted in the cause of right: theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Happy are you when people abuse you and persecute you and speak all kinds of calumny against you on my account. Rejoice and be glad, for your reward will be great in heaven.'

These eight blessings point out eight ways in which we can welcome God into our lives. The first and the last beatitudes knit them all together with 'theirs is the kingdom of heaven'. Jesus came to proclaim the kingship of his Father, and these are ways of living that kingship.

Which of these 'beatitudes' do you most lack? Which would you most like to acquire?

Blessings for a wonderful week,

Rebecca Lloyd REC

If your child is interested in being a flag bearer for this occasion, please leave your name and contact details at the church office.*
